

CURRICULUM VITAE

Name

Daithí Mac Síthigh

Educational and Professional Qualifications

LLB, Trinity College Dublin; BA Hons (Humanities), Open University; PhD, Trinity College Dublin; PG Cert (HE), University of East Anglia; PG Cert (Soc Sci), Open University; Fellow, Higher Education Academy

Languages

English, Irish

Experience with respect to IP / domain names

Professor of Law and Innovation, Queen's University Belfast. Formerly Associate Dean (Research and Innovation), Newcastle University - Faculty of Humanities and Social Sciences. Teaching and research experience in intellectual property and the Internet, including former course director of the LLM Innovation, Technology, and the Law (Edinburgh), published research on domain names in the International Journal of Law and Information Technology, co-author of Information Technology Law (Routledge - textbook), and co-investigator in the CREATE Research Centre for Copyright and New Business Models in the Creative Economy (funded by Research Councils UK). Served as panelist for .EU before joining UDRP panel.

Membership in professional bodies

Society of Legal Scholars; convenor of Media & Communications Law section, 2011- 2014), member of Research Awards Committee, 2018-)
Society for Computers and Law (member of Advisory Board, 2013-)